WE NOMINATE

Sidney Shore, specialist in structural engineering and 29-year old assistant professor at Princeton University, who was one of the honored guests at the recent dedication of the $44,000,000 Delaware Memorial Bridge, the world's sixth largest suspension bridge and the first direct link between New Jersey and Delaware and the lush Delmarva Peninsula to the south. Long before the bridge's 2,150-foot span was laced between towers standing 150 yards above the water, Shore was responsible for the unique series of tests that not only determined the most efficient network of braces for the bridge but possibly laid the ground-work for other "working theories" usable in future structures.

A native of Philadelphia and a "confirmed engineer" long before he entered school, Shore in his research headquarters—on the corner of Washington Road and Nassau Street—devoted a year to supervising the construction of a scale model corresponding to a 312-foot section of the Delaware span. Then for a period of months, employing gauges capable of measuring the expansion or contraction of steel to an accuracy of one part in 100,000, he and his associates carried forward "twisting and stiffness tests" which led to the conclusion that the "top-and-bottom" system of cross bracing adopted for the Delaware Bridge is 20 times stronger than the single system of the past.

The ceremonies opening the bridge over a vital national waterway were not without definite Princeton implications, for to Shore they symbolized only the first step in a five-year testing program with the 26-foot long Princeton model. In addition to utilizing the model as a teaching aid for engineers on both the undergraduate and graduate levels, it is Shore's plan to broaden his investigations in the hope of extending theories relating to space and framework structures in general.

Shore, top man in Civil Engineering at the University of Pennsylvania for three successive student years and a test engineer with the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics from 1943 until 1945, had little intention of making education his life's work when called here in 1946. However, he became more and more interested in combining teaching with research and consulting engineering and, although carrying a full faculty load at Princeton, succeeded in earning his master's degree at Columbia in 1949. In 1950-51 he completed advanced studies at Harvard before stepping into his current assignment as head of the Materials Testing Laboratory.

For finding inspiration in the kind of pioneering, behind-the-scenes effort that makes feats like the Delaware Bridge possible; for giving many Princetonians a feeling of participation in one of the top engineer projects in New Jersey history; for minimizing all he has accomplished in his few post-college years; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

Topics of the Town

Random Notes. A subversive group is at work seeking to undermine the civilian defense effort in New Jersey. Residents of various communities are receiving letters telling them they have been appointed air raid wardens and instructing them to pick up a multitude of ridiculous equipment at police headquarters. The letters are signed by a supposed "Director-General of Air Raid Wardens" who enjoys calling himself "Hugh B. Reddy."

Ninety-five percent of the New Jersey Turnpike is still expected to be open on schedule in November, although only 22 miles of its 118-mile length have been paved to date. Because of a steel shortage, a six-mile stretch crossing the Hackensack and Passaic Rivers will not be ready until early in 1952.

When the Valley Road School opens next month in Princeton township, the new cafeteria will be in operation. For a sample of the luncheons to be served (at the low price of 25 cents), see page three.

Next week's issue of TOWN TOPICS will be marked by reappearance of the shopping column, "It's New to Us," which will provide the first of a series of suggestions on back-to-school wear. All ages (from elementary through college) will be covered before mid-September, with fall fashions for women to follow. The opening date for public schools, incidentally, is Wednesday, September 5.

The best "Good Humor" route in New Jersey is reportedly the Princeton area. Led by undergraduates at the University, ice cream sticks are consumed at a rate which earned one driver $241 in a single week.

Historic note: Reunion Hall on the Princeton campus is so named because it was the first building constructed after the Civil War and commemorates the unification of North and South.

Stores operated by Charles J. Salliez at 174 Nassau and Gene Seal at 200 Nassau were entered over the weekend. The former lost $12 to $15 in small change and the latter about $5. Police believe children were responsible: not a single bottle of whiskey was taken from Salliez Liquor Store.

Arithmetic and Beer. Schoolchildren who found a problem in their arithmetic books today involving a woman's capacity for beer drinking might be a bit surprised, but more than two centuries ago it was apparently a common occurrance. The Princeton University Library has received a notebook compiled in 1722 by one Stacy Beakes, a 14-year old resident of Trenton, which tested him in this fashion:

"A Certain man and his wife did usually drink out a Vessell of beere in 12 dayes and the Husband found offten by experience that his wife being absent it would last him 20 dayes. The Question is how many dayes the wife would be drinking it alone."

The New York Times, which rarely tucks its tongue in cheek over any subject, headlined the story it printed on the library's acquisition: "A Lady's Capacity for Beer Immortalized." The Times also became sufficiently intrigued with the problem to provide the answer, commenting:

"The man and his wife together drink one-twelfth of the beer in a day, the man alone one-twehtieth. One-twelfth minus one-twentieth leaves one-thirtieth, which is the amount the wife drinks in one day.

Cafeteria Ready. With its old gymnasium remodelled into a new kitchen equipped with the latest cooking facilities, the Valley Road School is ready to place its cafeteria in operation on September 5. All cafeteria employees on the staff last year have been retained and will work under the direction of a new dietitian-manager.

Approval of the school for federal aid in maintaining inexpensive cafeteria prices will enable it to serve complete luncheons for as little as 25 cents per pupil. The cafeteria committee, whose chairman is Mrs. Richard E. Bradley, has listed for the consideration of mothers these menus for the first eight days of school:

Wednesday, September 5: Meat Loaf, Mashed Potatoes, String Beans, Bread and Butter, Milk, Ice Cream.

Thursday, September 6: American Chop Suey, Green Salad, Bread and Butter, Milk, Applesauce Cake.

Immortal Prose Dept. On the front page of The New York World-Telegram Tuesday was a large three-column picture of a man strumming a banjo and wearing a shirt that had PRINCETON emblazoned across his chest. He was James Manzi, one of more than 2,000 Brooklyn Dodger fans admitted free to Ebbets Field for bringing a musical instrument and participating in the first annual Music Depreciation Night.

In explanation of his attire, Mr. Manzi, a sheet metal worker, was quoted to this effect: "No, I ain't a Princeton personally, but my daughter goes with a Princeton and I borried his shirt."

Military Notes. A dozen Princetonians, members of the 307th Field Artillery Battalion (which is part of the 78th Division) will partake in field training at Pine Camp, N. Y., from Sunday through September 2. Members of Company L, Princeton's National Guard unit, were at Pine Camp in July.

The contingent heading northward will include Lt. Col. Sterling Anders, 28 Rollingmead; Maj. Joseph W. Miller, Jr., Princeton Pike; Captain George R. Bishop, Jr., 274 Nassau Street; Corp. Albert H. Snow, 98 Jefferson Road; Pfc. George H. Gallup, The Great Road; Captain Frank T. Gorman, 6 Southern Way; 1st Lt. Donald R. Bryant, Jr., 194 Nassau Street; 2nd Lt. Stuart H. News of the Theatres

SUMMER THEATRES

Joan Bennett will be seen next week in "Susan and God," the comedy that had its world premiere at the McCarter in 1937 with Gertrude Lawrence in the leading role. Melinda Markey, Miss Bennett's 17-year old daughter, appears with her. "Detective Story," a drama of big city crime that features William Bendix, ends its run Saturday.

The Lambertville Music Circus, currently presenting "High Button Shoes," will stage the perennial favorite, "Naughty Marietta," for five days starting Tuesday. In New Hope, the Bucks County Playhouse will present John Loder in "Second Threshold" for six days starting Monday. The current production is Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" with Philip Bourneuf and Katherine Bard.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Showboat (Thurs.-Sat.) is a lavish and overly-sentimental presentation of the famed Edna Ferber novel. Kathryn Grayson, Howard Keel and Ava Gardner head the cast. The story, particularly with the corny treatment it gets, begins to show the passage of time but the Kern-Hammerstein music has long since achieved immortality. Good dancing, plus a magnificent rendition of "Ol' Man River" by baritone William Warfield, make the picture distinctly worthwhile.

Francis Goes to the Races (Sun.-Tues.) is the saga of a talking mule and his owner (Donald O'Conner) who create quite an uproar when the former acts as a go-between at the races, finding out from the ponies who will win and setting up a fabulous seven-horse parlay for Mr. O'Connor. Utter whimsy but taken in that vein, good summer-time entertainment.

Mr. Belvedere Rings the Bell (Wed.-Sat.) casts Clifton Webb in the role of an aging prankster who raises hob in an old people's home, all to prove that the greatest enjoyment of life can begin after 80. The various scatter-brained incidents are essentially amusing, if keyed at an uneven pitch. Joanne Dru and Hugh Marlowe are on hand to lend romantic interest.

THE GARDEN

Sierra (Fri.-Sat.), a musical western, is notable not for its routine plot but for the fine singing of Burl Ives, tops at recording America's folk songs. Color photography reproduces the mountain setting at its best. With Audie Murphy and Wanda Hendrix.

As Young as You Feel (Mon.-Tues.) records how Monty Woolley proves his worth to a company that relieves him of his job when he reaches 65. The ensuing action is little better than an unimpressive farce, with Mr. Woolley's good acting constantly struggling to offset the nonsensical plot. Note on the passage of time: Constance Bennett, a leading actress in the thirties, appears in a very minor role.

The Prowler (Wed. - Thurs.) shows the reward reaped by Van Heflin and Evelyn Keyes when they seek happiness after he murders her husband, covering up the crime by faking a suicide. The climax, in which he is pursued by police from their ghost town dwelling, is good but the overall effect of the sordid story is one of unpleasantness.

Comin' Round the Mountain (Fri.-Sat.), the latest Abbott and Costello piece, has the hillbilly theme the title implies. A Kentucky mountain feud, with Bud Abbott heading the McCoys, provides the theme for their familiar slapstick. Good only for their faithful.

The New Jersey Poll

PUBLIC SAYS COMMUNISTS ARE FAVORED IF THE WAR ENDS AT 38TH PARALLEL

Who do New Jersey voters think will have come off better if the war in Korea ends with that country divided at the 38th Parallel — the United Nations or the Communists?

A statewide survey completed within the past two weeks shows that New Jersey public sentiment is sharply divided on the issue, with neither side able to muster a majority vote. However, the number of voters who think the Communists will have come off better outnumbers by a 6 per cent margin those who name the United Nations.

When New Jersey Poll staff reporters put this question to an accurate cross-section of the state's voters:

"Taking everything into account, which side do you think will have come off better if the war in Korea ends with Korea divided at the 38th Parallel—the United Nations or the Communists?"

The results:

United Nations	33%
Communists	39
Neither side	3
No opinion	25

An analysis of the views of the various population groups in the state on the question as to which side will have come off better if peace results in a Korea divided at the 38th Parallel highlights two findings:

In general, the more education people have had, the more inclined they are to feel that the Communists will have come off better in the event of a Korean 38th Parallel split.

	Grade or no school.	H.S. train.	College train.
United Nations	41%	32%	23%
Communists	20	43	57
Neither side	2	3	6
No opinion	37	22	14

Greater proportions of Democratic voters in the state than Republicans or Independents think the United Nations will have come off better.

	Republicans	Democrats	Independ.
United Nations	26%	42%	28%
Communists	45	29	45
Neither side	4	2	4
No opinion	25	27	23

Dinner will be served at 6:30 and members are urged to bring guests. Meyer Goldstein is chairman of the outing committee, assisted by Paul Alford, Jack Turner, Jr. and Paul Giroux.

The Public Library will close Wednesday at 1 and will reopen Monday, August 27, at 10 o'clock. An inventory will be taken during that time.

The Red Cross chapter has had its quota for flood relief in four midwestern states doubled (in line with similar action throughout the country) and is now seeking to raise $5,800. More than 7,000 families need assistance in repairing or rebuilding homes, while 11,000 must buy new household furnishings. Checks to the American Red Cross Flood Relief should be sent to the Princeton chapter at Palmer Square.

SPORTS IN SHORT

"Croocial" Contest Carded. The most important game of the girls' league season is on the card for next Thursday evening at the high school field. Kings Inn, trying for the victory that will virtually wrap up the league title, will face Andy's Tavern.

The game should be a real pitcher's battle between Kiki Brabson, undefeated this season, and young Virginia Mershon, who seems to improve with every game. Her latest effort was a one-hit 9-0 whitewashing of Cramer Motors. Ann Compton's clean single in the sixth inning spoiled the no-hitter.

Alice Keiunji's single with the bases loaded and two out in the last of the seventh scored Margaret Turney with the run that gave the Eagles an 11-10 victory over Coan's. Trailing 10-0, Coan's tallied five times in the fourth, finally tied the count at 10-10 with two in the top of the seventh, only to lose on Alice's clutch single.

Coan's is engaged in a tight struggle with Swinnerton's Sluggers for fourth place and a berth in the post-season play-offs. Swinnerton's missed an opportunity to edge ahead in the race when they lost to last-place ETS, 12-1. Gail Kelly pitched ETS to its first triumph of the season. Kings Inn won a 9-0 forfeit from Cousins.

ETS pulled the biggest upset of the girls' season by toppling the Eagles, 4-2, on Tuesday. The defeat shattered the losers' hopes of moving back into a tie for brst place.

Gail Kelley was the ETS star, limiting the slugging Eagles to three hits. With two out in the last inning, she got in a jam by giving up two straight walks and a hit but with the bases loaded, struck out the next batter to end the game.

ETS rallied for three big runs in the third off Alice Keiunji. Ruth Blackman singled, Gail Kelley walked and Mary Klopinski drove them both home with a sharp double down the left field line. Mary then tallied on Jean Petty's single.

The league standings:

Andy's Tavern	9	2
Eagles	7	3
Coan's Clubbers	5	6
Swinnerton's	4	5

Softball Season in Stretch. The softball season is in the stretch with only a few games remaining to be played. Last night's games were Jugtown 9, Townies 5; Pete's 13, Cenerinos 10; Pete's 16, Bank Street 5.

In the B league, RCA has completed its regular schedule and is assured of at least a tie for first place in the final standings. An 11-2 victory over Engine Co. No. 1 in a make-up game Monday and a 9-0 forfeit win over Esposito's Tuesday gave RCA a final record of 12 and 2.

Post Office Social Club, with a record of 10 and 2, must win its two remaining games to gain a tie with RCA. On Tuesday the Post Office trounced RCA 15-4, as Doug Watson pitched a two-hitter.

ETS 1, with third place already clinched, was upset by AVC in an 8-7 game Tuesday. After AVC jumped away to a 5-0 lead, ETS rallied for six runs in the fifth, with Fred Bauer's three-run homer the big blow. But AVC took command again and held the lead behind the effective hurling of John Langei.

Engine Co. No. 1, after losing two games in two straight evenings this week, must win its remaining game to tie ETS 2 for the fourth place play-off berth. ETS No. 2 edged the Engine Co., 4-3, Tuesday to complete its schedule with a 7-7 record. Centerfielder Powell Garrison saved the important victory for ETS by making a sensational catch of Skitch Donald's bid for extra bases with two on in the sixth.

HOOK & LADDER BASEBALL TEAM WINS ITS FIRST JUNIOR LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

After trying for three years, the Hook & Ladder baseball team captured the junior league championship this season. To climax the all-successful campaign, the Hook & Ladder aggregation trimmed an all-star team selected from the other four entries in the league. The score was 5-4 when rain stopped the game after four innings of play on Brokaw Field last Friday. Henry Gee was the winning pitcher for Hook & Ladder, and Tommy James of Bamman's and Ralph Jenkins of Thorne's did the hurling for the all-stars. Pictured above are the members of the Hook & Ladder squad: kneeling, left to right, Henry Gee, Robert Ritchie, Ellery Calkin, Captain Peter Lappan, holding the championship trophy, Robert Cox and Carl Henlein; standing, left to right, Charles Coffman, John Broadway, Wilbur Kerr, representing the Hook & Ladder Fire Company, Robert Foster, Pete Johnson and Robert Rosner.

Softball Season in Stretch. The A league softball race is in the home stretch, but the only real battle remaining is for the fourth place spot in the post-season playoffs. It's a two-way tussle, with Jugtown Community Club holding a slight edge over Cenerinos.

The Phantoms, with first place practically sewed up, kept on rolling with two victories during the past week. They defeated Vet Taxi, 11-5, behind the five-hit pitching of Irwin Newline and the home runs of Norm Hines and Tom Phox. On Monday they trimmed Jugtown and Jesse Clayton, 13-7, to avenge an earlier upset.

Norm Schecter hurled a four-hitter as Vet Taxi trounced the last-place Townies, 9-2, on Monday. Mike Zecola and Red Trani bolted homers for the winners.

Other scores during the week wh[illegible] a solid blocker and smart signal caller in the quarterback berth is almost as vital to scoring

Where is Dodge cars?

"I was first in our large family to own a Dodge," says Frank Perrotti, Woodbridge, Conn. "But it didn't take long for the rest of the Perrotti family to follow suit. Yes, once they saw my Dodge, rode in it, compared it with the cars they were driving, they all began to swing over to Dodge. Today our family owns 13 Dodge cars and 11 Dodge trucks . . . and that's saying plenty for Dodge value and dependability."

a touchdown as possession of the ball itself.

In the season that will see him try to keep some part of the eye-filling success achieved in 1950, Charlie Caldwell must rebuild his team at tackle and quarterback virtually from the ground up. Biggest loss, both in size and ability, is 6-5, All-American Hollie Donan, who in three years missed just one play through illness or injury. Also graduated are Culver Smith, Hal Urschel and Dick Valentzas.

Normally, even the loss of this veteran quartet would not be a staggering blow, because there were several able holdovers. But big George Kline went down before the accidental siege guns, as did Hank Doerfler, an even bigger sophomore who had shown promise.

Then, George Petchel, a 212-pounder who had been a standout on the freshman eleven last Fall, was declared ineligible. If Caldwell can overcome the loss of seven men of this calibre by the time the November games come along, it will be a coaching triumph of the first magnitude.

You have to go back to the 1948 season to get the parallel facing the team today in the quarterback problem. That was the fall after Dick West's graduation, and the Tigers had lost an able, scrappy field general who had engineered their first Big Three title in eight years.

George Chandler was the pick to replace him, and by the time he had gotten his diploma, George had become one of the best quarterbacks in Tiger gridiron history. But it took him time to learn, while he was gaining experience, Princeton lost the first three games on its 1948 schedule.

It wasn't all George's greenness, of course, but the inability to weld the complicated single wing machinery together was a part of the Tigers' trouble. The first day it clicked was in the mud and rain on Baker Field, when Frank Reichel's last minute field goal turned a potential fourth straight defeat into a heartening 16-14 victory.

So, Princeton must now replace Chandler, just as Chandler replaced West. A year ago, it was figured to be Ralph "Bo" Willis, 190-pound Baltimore product who is one of the nation's leading lacrosse players.

But Willis got a brain infection last September and never put on a football uniform. He was able to play lacrosse in the spring, but because of the even more rugged nature of the gridiron sport, it is doubtful he will be able to partake in that this season.

The leading candidate is now George Stevens, Chandler's chief understudy last season. His strongest quality is his blocking; to what degree he can take over as field general under intense pressure can only be determined in the tough opening games against Columbia, Navy and Penn.

If he could, of course, Caldwell would like to groom a sophomore for the job, because the Tigers will be building this year for the future and a quarterback who has ten or 12 games under his belt by the middle of his junior year is a tremendous asset. Frank Lovecchio, 150-pound Wilkes-Barre boy, will be given the chance to follow such a trail.

Under any circumstances, however, the task of rebuilding that confronts the Nassau coaching staff is tremendous. Without tackles, the line is unhinged, and without a quarterback, there is no piston to provide driving power. It may well take half a season or more to remedy the situation.

Twin-M Play-Offs Begin. The Twin-M League play-offs will get under way Monday at 6:15 on Brokaw Field with Princeton facing either Hightstown or Pennington, depending on the outcome of their game this Thursday.

No-hit Tom Brophy will pitch the play-off opener for Jack Petrone. He will be backed up by Chick Davis and Dave Cimolski in the hurling department. If the Tigertowners win the opening series, they will play a five-game match against the survivor of the Belle Mead - and - opponent first round series.
